WITH THE TRENTON CLUB

Big League Scouts Tip Off Kid Outfielder-Other Sporting News and Gossip.

By WILLIAM PEET.

Billy Lee, kid outfielder, who was give trial with the Nationals in Charlottes ville last March, and who was carried on the pay roll of the club for more than a month after the season opened and then handed his unconditional release, has made good in the Tri-State League. Up to the present writing Lee is hitting over the charmed .300 mark with the Trenton team, playing center field. He is regarded as one of the best prospects three big league scouts have recommended his purchase.

Only ningteen years old. Lee did not impress Manager Griffith with signs of future greatness. The kid was altogether too green, and while he looked like a natural hitter, his fielding was hardly up to scratch.
Hoping to place him with a minor league club, Griff held tight to Lee for nearly a mouth after the present season league club, Grin need tight to be lost nearly a month after the present season opened and was finally obliged to hand the kid his unconditional release.

Here is what happened: Lee got a trial with one of the clubs of the New York with one of the clubs of the New Jorse and New Jersey League and was soon bought by the Trenton club, of the Tri-State aggregation. He has more than made good, and if reports are to be credited. Griff has no string on him. It would be the irony of fate if Lee were to be gobbled up by one of the other American League teams and should develop into a star. develop into a star.

Only one game was played in Chicago yesterday, and the rules of the American League were plainly violated by Manager Callahan.

Owing to the postponement of the final chicagon. combat in Chicago during the first trip of the Nationals in the West this season.

a double-header was automatically booked during the initial appearance of the Griff-men on the present jaunt, but Callahan. claiming his pitchers were in poor shape refused to schedule the twin sketch.

The Nationals, when at home, always obey this rule to the letter, but other ican League managers, notably Callahan and Connic Mack, juggle things around to suit themselves. There is need an all-star club picked from the players of the other five clubs in that circuit. The returns from the collection, which of investigation here. One game is booked for the Windy City this afternoon, and the chances are that either Jim Shaw or Joe Engel will be on will be taken up, will go toward paying the hospital bill of Earl "Skull" Hunt, of the Eastern team, who was injured at the mound opposed to Rebel Russell or junior race and were outrowed by the Grand Rapids eight, which is in charge Wyar. Once or twice the Potomac's looked as though they might get up with the leaders in the junior race, but the crew did not have the race, but the crew did not have the punch, and it fell behind at the half way mark. Then it got in a ruck and could not get out. The Analostians were right after the Grand Rapids boys all the way. They challenged them no less than three times and the spurts by the two crews of the Schuyikiil.

But when it came to the final drive the Westerners were the strongest and shoved their boat over the line a length and one-half ahead of the Analostian's.
